

USEDVANLIG

Usedvanlig – that’s Norwegian for “extraordinary” and Norway seems to have a remarkable number of extraordinary people, both past and present. How is it that such a small country could have some of the most remarkable people in history that have done such extraordinary things. If you have not already, please read last month’s fantastic article on Bernt Balchen by past-president Terje “Ted” Birkedal to find out more about our lodge namesake and how extraordinary his life was. Amazing how closely connected his life was to the Arctic and to Alaska along with his home country of Norway.

Another notable Norwegian is Helge Ingstad, a Norwegian explorer who together with his wife proved that the western discovery of America was by none other than Leif Erickson 500 years prior to Christopher Columbus. Ingstad spent time in Alaska living among the natives of Anaktuvik Pass and was so endeared by their people that they named a local mountain after him. He gave a talk at our lodge in the late 1980’s discussing his work and discoveries (we have a recording of this lecture thanks to past president Eva Bilet).

The extraordinary Norwegian contributions to the world with connections to Alaska continue to the present day. Take the brother-sister cross country skiers Erik and Sadie Bjornsen who are on the US Ski team, having trained with the Alaska Pacific Nordic ski team, and are Olympians to boot. And our own lodge has some extraordinary figures, including Espen Haugen, who just recently completed a bike ride from Cape Town, South Africa to the top of Mount Kilimanjaro to raise awareness about physically disabled children in Northern Uganda. For a relatively small country in our world to have impacts on a global scale and connections to our even smaller Alaska community is truly extraordinary. And Norway’s extraordinary connections to Alaska continue to run deep. This month we welcome three Norwegian mushers to Iditarod 2019 (and one Swede) to see if they can prevail in bringing home the winning dog sled team.

In the still of the remaining winter days, consider how extraordinary it is that you are part of a community of people that have a great history to share and many stories left to tell. Part of the fun of our small 300+ member community at Bernt Balchen lodge is coming together and sharing a bit of who we are and what role we have had in creating the community in which we live. Your stories might not be quite as extraordinary as the folks highlighted above, but I can guarantee that if you share some time and stories with your fellow lodge members, something extraordinary will happen! Join us at Hygge time this coming month!

*Fraternally yours, Tom Falskow

MOVIE NIGHT! THE 12TH MAN

Do you remember when movie night meant getting together with others in your small community? Maybe it was at a church, school or library. That is what it is like to attend movie night at Viking Hall.

We are a community!

This was a riveting film from start to finish. Tusen Takk to Christie Ericson, our Cultural Director for making this happen.

IDITAROD FOR NORWEGIANS

On March 2nd, Bernt Balchen Lodge members came out to cheer the mushers running the Iditarod. The corner of 15th and Cordova by Central Lutheran Church was a happening place. There are four Scandinavians mushing this year, Niklas Wikstrand (from Nes, Norway), Joar Leifseth Ulsom (from Mo I Rana, Norway), Mats Pettersson (from Kiruna, Sweden) and Martin Apayaug Reitan (from Narjordet, Norway and Kaktovik).

MEET THE WORLD

Once again, Sons of Norway, Bernt Balchen Lodge participated in this yearly event that brings together many cultural groups in Anchorage.

This event was sponsored by Bridge Builders.

SCARF IN A DAY!

On Saturday, February 16th, members of the Anchorage Spinners & Weavers Guild held a day long weaving workshop at Viking Hall. Looms and supplies were provided by the Guild and by the end of the day, all 17 attendees had a completed scarf to take home. Thanks to Bernt Balchen Lodge member Lorri Wright for organizing the workshop!

5TH ANNUAL NORDIC LANGUAGE FAIR

It is hard to believe that the Nordic Language Fair has been going for 5 years! The speakers were knowledgeable and engaging.

Many thanks to Christie Ericson for organizing this event, and to all the speakers for giving their time and knowledge to this fun and informative evening.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND - SUPER BOWL RAFFLE 2019

The enthusiastic crowd attending the Sons of Norway Super Bowl Party enjoyed the game and the refreshments. The game was again shown on two screens – the 70” HDTV and the 100” Projector Screen. Wayne Johnson, along with a few helpers, prepared the Lapskaus stew on Saturday and that evening Wayne and Sandra left to visit family in Arizona. A huge thanks goes out to Jim Greeley who stepped in on Sunday to man the ovens and prepare the dumplings. Jim, and Merlin Hamre who also bartended, served the stew. A special thanks also to Sandra Hanson who traveled from warm country to help with the event. Marit Kristiansen kept us on the up-and-up recording the “official record of drawing” while Jane Moe Newby handled the paperwork associated with notifying raffle winners.
